@HELMHOLTZ

PhD Conference
5-7th July 2017
Kiel (GEOMAR)

Be part of the second German-wide conference of Helmholtz doctoral researchers - organised by docs for docs! Present your research in an interdisciplinary environment and shape your network.

The Conference

NextGen@Helmholtz 2017 aims to connect doctoral researchers from all Helmholtz Centres. The programme encompasses a variety of both, scientific and social events, including interdisciplinary workshops, an alumni discussion, a science slam, a pub quiz and much more.

Take up the opportunity to present your own scientific work and pave the way for multi-disciplinary collaborations. Get the most out of the great network you are part of - the Helmholtz Association.

The Organisers

The Helmholtz Juniors consist of two elected representatives from each Helmholtz Centre representing about 6800 PhD students. Our primary goals are fostering exchange and networking, improving working conditions and expanding the range and availability of training courses and workshops.

Three years ago, we had the idea to organise a PhD conference open to everybody who would like to get more out of the Helmholtz Network. After last years premiere, we are proud to announce that motivated docs from various Helmholtz Centers organised the second NextGen@Helmholtz!

See you in Kiel!
